What Information Do We Hold About You?

We hold information that you have provided to us directly via our website, via direct contact with one of our employees or associates, or via one of our partners such as an event management company (if you have provided consent for them to pass on your details to Vasave). This can include your full name, job title, business email and postal addresses and business phone numbers. We also collect information when you buy our services, and when you provide feedback.

Sharing Your Personal Data

We may need to share your personal data with our employees, agencies, suppliers (including any intermediaries or other product providers involved in the delivery of your training) in order to deliver and administer your training. We would also use your personal data in any legal proceedings. We are required by law to disclose your personal data to law enforcement agencies in connection with any investigation to prevent unlawful activity. We will never disclose your personal data to any third parties for the purposes of marketing, nor will we transfer the information to another country.

Cookies

Cookies are text files placed on your computer to collect standard internet log information and visitor behaviour information. This information issued to track visitor use of the website and to compile statistical reports on website activity. For further information visit About Cookies or All About Cookies. You can set your browser not
